

A photograph of several Marine Corps soldiers in full combat gear, including helmets and large backpacks, standing in front of a large military transport aircraft. The aircraft has "MARINES" and the number "040" visible on its side. The scene is set in a dark, possibly hangar-like environment. A large white arrow graphic points from the left towards the center of the image, framing the main text.

YOU HAVE THE POWER TO TRAIN THE CORPS

The Marine Corps spent $226M on installation energy in FY15. Reducing energy use by 10% can save $23M—almost the same cost required to execute five Integrated Training Exercises (ITX).
